SUBJECT: Guidance on the Use of the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance
Program Income for Single Family Housing Direct Loans

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this unnumbered letter (UL) is to reissue guidance regarding the use of the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits to calculate repayment income for Single Family Housing Direct (SFHD) loans. There are no changes to the guidance issued in the previous UL on this matter.

BACKGROUND:

Chapter 4, paragraph 4.3.C.2.C of the Handbook 1-3550, excludes special-purpose payments income from being used to calculate annual and repayment income to make eligibility and qualification determinations for SFHD loan applications. Since these payments are intended to defray specific expenses, and would be discontinued if not spent solely for those expenses, the entirety of this income cannot be deemed stable and dependable for mortgage qualification purposes.

SNAP benefits (formerly known as the Food Stamp Program) is considered a special-purpose payment and based on existing Handbook guidance would be excluded from the repayment income calculation. However, SNAP benefits help equalize the percent of income a qualified household spends on food in comparison to households who do not need or qualify for SNAP benefits. This equalization essentially enhances a SNAP recipient's repayment ability for a SFHD loan.

PROCEDURE:

To acknowledge the above, while avoiding the past problem of having a substantial portion of an applicant's repayment income consist of SNAP benefits, Field Staff may consider the value of the applicant's SNAP benefits to calculate repayment income in an amount not to exceed 20 percent of the total repayment income.

The 20 percent referenced above was derived from a 2012 Consumer Expenditure survey from the Bureau of Labor Statistics that indicates that households with annual, pre-tax incomes under $20,000 spend approximately 20 percent of their income on food.

Only the SNAP benefits attributable to the note signers can be considered for repayment income and only the lesser of the "not to exceed" figure or the actual SNAP benefits can be included in the applicant's repayment income. Attached to this UL are examples on how to calculate the maximum amount of SNAP benefits that can be included in the income calculation for SFH Direct loans.

Be sure to thoroughly document this consideration and calculation in the running record. In UniFi, do not enter the allowable SNAP benefit amount in the non-taxable income field in the Income Worksheet screen.

To determine repayment ability for 504 loan applicants, only the food cost over and above the SNAP benefits should be reflected on Form RD 1944-3, "Budget and/or Financial Statement", as a food expense. For example, if the monthly SNAP benefit is $300 and the actual food expense is $400 per month, only $100 is considered food expense for budget purposes.

The Agency believes that by enhancing the guidance on SNAP income, we promote long-term homeownership in the communities we serve while protecting the government's investment.

Calculating SNAP Benefits for Single Family Housing Direct Loans

Example 1: The “not to exceed” amount is higher than the actual SNAP benefits received.

Step 1	Establish the amount of monthly SNAP benefits received by the applicant.	Applicant’s monthly SNAP benefits	$200
Step 2	Calculate the repayment income (received by the note signers) excluding the SNAP benefits.	Monthly repayment income before SNAP consideration	$1,000
Step 3	Equalize the repayment income using the standard assumption that a household spends 20% of their income on food. This repayment income is equivalent to the monthly income for households that do not receive SNAP benefits.	First step to calculate the “not exceed 20 percent of the total repayment income” Income Equalization: Repayment income / .80	$($1,000 / .80) =$ $1,250
Step 4	Determine the maximum amount of monthly SNAP benefits that may be included in the repayment income.	Calculation for the “not exceed 20 percent of the total repayment income”	$$1,250 - $1,000 =$ $250
Step 5	Compare the actual SNAP benefits received with the “not to exceed 20% of the total repayment income” calculation.	Calculation for “the lesser of the “not to exceed” figure or the actual SNAP benefits”	Actual SNAP Benefits: $200 “Not to exceed” amount: $250
Step 6	Add the repayment income from Step 2 and the lesser of the calculation in Step 5.	Monthly repayment income after SNAP consideration.	$($1,000 + $200) =$ $1,200

Example 2: The “not to exceed” is lower than the SNAP benefits received.

Step 1	Establish the amount of monthly SNAP benefits received by the applicant.	Applicant’s monthly SNAP benefits	$550
Step 2	Calculate the repayment income (received by the note signers) excluding the SNAP benefits.	Monthly repayment income before SNAP consideration	$2,000
Step 3	Equalize the repayment income using the standard assumption that a household spends 20% of their income on food. This repayment income is equivalent to the monthly income for household that do not receive SNAP benefits.	First step to calculate the “not exceed 20 percent of the total repayment income” Income Equalization: Repayment income / .80	$($2,000 / .80) =$ $$2,500 - $2,000 =$ $500
Step 4	Determine the maximum amount of monthly SNAP benefits that may be included in the repayment income.	Calculation for the “not exceed 20 percent of the total repayment income”	$$2,500 - $2,000 =$ $500
Step 5	Compare the actual SNAP benefits received with the “not to exceed 20% of the total repayment income calculation” calculation.	Calculation for “the lesser of the “not to exceed” figure or the actual SNAP benefits”	Actual SNAP Benefits: $550 Not to exceed amount: $500
Step 6	Add the actual repayment income from Step 2 and the lesser of the calculation in Step 5.	Monthly repayment income after SNAP consideration	$2,500

SUBJECT Modest Housing Determinations

PURPOSE/INTENDED OUTCOME:

The purpose of this Unnumbered Letter (UL) is to reissue guidance that clarifies Rural Development's (RD) definition of modest housing and to provide additional instructions for making modest housing determinations. There are no changes since the last issued UL on this subject.

BACKGROUND:

Agency regulations define modest housing as "a property that is considered modest for the area, with a market value that does not exceed the applicable area loan limit as established by RHS in accordance with §3550.63. In addition, "Modest Housing" as defined in 7 CFR 3550.10, "must not be designed for income producing activities nor have an in-ground swimming pool." RD derives its area loan limits from the nationally recognized Marshall and Swift residential cost analysis of the expense to build a new modest home in each county plus the cost of a developed lot.

Although the nation's housing market appears to be recovering, the strength of that recovery varies greatly across the country. While some areas are experiencing a rapid increase in home prices, other areas have not seen the same degree of price appreciation.

FILING INSTRUCTIONS:

Given this, some applicants may still enter into purchase agreements for homes that appear to be above modest but have market values within the applicable area loan limit. This can be problematic because larger homes may jeopardize a borrower’s success; larger homes have higher costs (utilities, taxes, insurance, maintenance, etc.).

IMPLEMENTATION RESPONSIBILITIES:

Due to the above, we believe the modest housing determination should include a standardized square footage consideration. We have determined that the most standardized square footage data available is the biennial American Housing Survey (AHS). Below is the average size of single family homes by regions as listed in the 2011 survey; future survey results will be provided as published. This regional data will serve as a general guideline and is not a firm limitation. If a home’s square footage exceeds the reported AHS average square footage, the Area Office will need to determine if the home is typical for the area based on historical Agency-lending activity in that area and/or if the applicant has special needs due to an exceptionally large household or a household member with a disability. If the Area Office believes the home is modest, an exception by the State Director will be sought. The exception request must take into consideration the costs of utilities and maintenance. The applicant will be requested to obtain actual utility costs for the last 12 months. In addition, the request must address the age and condition of the home (using the inspection report, appraisal report, etc.) and the applicant’s ability to pay the higher costs (utilities, taxes, insurance, maintenance, etc.) associated with the larger home. Otherwise, the home will be considered above modest based on size.

Size of Unit -- Owner Occupied Units (single detached and mobile homes).

	Northeast	Midwest	South	West
sq. ft.	2,000	1,800	1,800	1,800

States contained in each region are as follows:

Northeast - Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Midwest - Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

South - Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas.

West - Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Alaska, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, California and Hawaii.

While some State Offices expressed concerns regarding various amenities (premium materials, unique features, etc.), we believe that amenity biases are a consumer issue. Amenities desired by consumers may cost more but they tend to last longer. The Agency will not dictate what amenities are or are not allowed (other than those expressed in the 7 CFR part 3550).

States Offices may not add any additional considerations to the modest housing determination.

SUBJECT: Results of the 2013 Multi-Family Housing Annual Fair Housing Occupancy Report

We are pleased to present the 2013 Rural Development Multi-Family Housing (MFH) Annual Occupancy Report, which includes both Rural Rental Housing (RRH) Section 515 and Farm Labor Housing (FLH) Section 514 properties. New starting this year is demographic information on the Section 521 Rental Assistance (RA) program. These results are based on September 2013 data from the Multi-Family Information System (MFIS) database.

This Report presents data from the past 3 years, comparing information from years 2011 to 2013. Attachment A is a summary of Report results. Highlights of this year's data include:

- The total number of rental properties has decreased by 2.48 percent since last year or a decrease of 346 Section 515 properties and a decrease of 34 FLH properties. The number of rental units in the MFH portfolio has decreased by 1.14 percent. Overall, we saw a reduction of 380 properties in the past year, representing about 5,092 apartments.
- The current population shows a continued decline in the White population. The breakdown now consists of: White, Non-Hispanic households: 67.48 percent, Black Non-Hispanic households: 18.79 percent; Hispanic households: 10.90 percent; Asian, Pacific Islander households: 0.71 percent; American Indian/Alaskan Native households: 1.49 percent; Multi-racial households: 0.63 percent.
- There was a slight decrease in very-low income households, which represent 93.28 percent of all households. Low-income households represent 5.70 percent of the total.
- Average household incomes are up to $12,055 from $11,628 (a 3.67 percent increase); the average income of Rental Assistance (RA) households increased to $10,024 from $9,636 (a 4.03 percent increase).

- Female-headed households continue to represent the majority of households (72.4 percent). There was no appreciable change in the percentage of elderly/disabled households vs. non-elderly but there was a slight increase in the disabled population within the elderly/disabled households.
- Overall, as a percentage of all households, female-headed households remained approximately the same; there was a slight increase in elderly households; and more disabled households. Generally, over the last several years, the portfolio continues to favor elderly/handicapped versus non-elderly households.

In comparing the RRH Section 515 portfolio with the FLH Section 514 portfolio, it is interesting to note:

- FLH members per household are about twice the size of the average household in the portfolio. Average farm labor income is more than one and half times that of the average RRH portfolio household ($20,888 vs $11,747). Farm labor income for RA households, $15,418, is significantly higher than the average RA income for the RRH portfolio, $9,829.
- Elderly/disabled households make up 61.3 percent of the RRH portfolio, but only 18.4 percent of the FLH households.
- RA households make up 67.1 percent of the RRH portfolio and 69.5 percent of the FLH households. Both RRH and FLH showed a slight increase in RA households compared to last year. Overall, 80 percent of households continue to receive some kind of subsidy.
- White households constitute 69.6 percent of the RRH portfolio, while minorities constitute 93.6 percent of the FLH households.

The report also shows that we have a greater percentage of households using RA compared to last year. Rent overburdened households (those paying more than 30 percent of their income towards rent) continue to decline, though at a slower rate than 2004-2007 when the unused RA policy first went into effect in 2005. The ongoing reduction in rent overburdened tenants demonstrates continuing improvement toward our objective to utilize all available RA units.

If you have any questions, please contact Stephanie White at 202-720-1615 or Janet Stouder at 202-720-9728.
