About the Small Town Downtown Forums

Small towns have unique issues and needs that are often very different from those of larger communities. These forums are intended to bring together those serving and working in and with communities of populations less than 1,500 to learn from each other through case studies, roundtables and discussion groups. Everyone who cares about the future of small town Wisconsin is invited to attend. Come to the forum nearest to you to brag about your town's accomplishments, ask questions about successes and challenges in other communities, learn about new opportunities, and share your great ideas.

Who should attend?

Community leaders, elected officials, volunteers, business leaders, educators, economic development professionals, planners and others interested in small town issues.
