This project will bring distance learning to the College of the Marshall Islands. Through the Compact of Free Association with the United States, the Marshall Islands is eligible for many federal programs. This project will extend videoconference technology from the College's main campus on the Majuro Atoll to the Arrak Campus on the opposite side of the Majuro Atoll. The video system will also reach the town of Ebeye on the Kwajalein Atoll, which currently does not have a college campus. $500,000
