Section 1: Revolving Funds for Financing Water and Wastewater Projects (Revolving Fund Program)

1.1 Introduction

The Revolving Fund Program (RFP) is designed to help communities expand and improve water or wastewater systems using short-term loans provided to subgrant recipients. Qualified private, nonprofit organizations use RFP grant funds to establish a revolving loan fund. These organizations then provide loans eligible entities can use to help cover predevelopment costs, or short-term, small capital projects not part of the regular operation and maintenance of existing water and wastewater systems. To qualify to apply for a loan under the RFP, an entity must be eligible to obtain a loan, loan guarantee, or grant under paragraphs 1 or 2 found in section 306(a) of the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act – CONACT – (7 U.S.C. 1926(a)(1) and (2)) – available at this link: <https://go.usa.gov/xJDjW> - PDF).

The amount of financing to an eligible entity cannot not exceed $200,000 – or 75 percent of the total cost of a project, whichever is less – and must be repaid within 10 years. The total outstanding balance for all loans under this program to any one entity cannot exceed $200,000. The interest rate is determined by the grant recipient and must be approved by USDA Rural Development Rural Utilities Service.

In this guide, you will find the following information:

- Application process and deadlines
- Components of a complete application
- Scoring criteria and application review process

1.2 Authorization

In addition to Section 306(a)(2)(B) of the CONACT, the RFP is authorized by 7 U.S.C. 1926 (a) – available at this link: <https://go.usa.gov/xJDZU>.

The regulation that governs the RFP is 7 CFR Part 1783, “Revolving Funds for Financing Water and Wastewater Projects (Revolving Fund Program),” available at this link: <https://go.usa.gov/xJDZs>.

The regulations listed above take precedence over the interpretation of any information in this guide.

1.3 Fiscal Year 2022 Funding Availability

The exact amount of funding available for Fiscal Year 2022 is not known. FY 2022 appropriations provided for $1 million, but additional funding as a result of carryover or grant recoveries might also become available.

1.4 Contacts

The proposal must explain what you will accomplish by lending funds to eligible entities. It must demonstrate the feasibility of the proposed loan program in meeting RFP objectives.

Your proposal must cover the following elements:

In describing what your project will achieve, indicate whether its influence will be broad. Your narrative must:

funds, and which costs will be met by your organization or non-RFP sources. The justification must account for all expenditures in your narrative, and it must reflect appropriate cost-sharing contributions.

The budget justification must explain your proposed (or already in use) budget and accounting system. The administrative costs for operating the budget must be expressed as a percentage of the overall budget. The budget justification must provide specific budget figures, rounding to the nearest dollar. Section 4: The Application Review Process

4.1 Acknowledging Receipt of your Application

All applications are reviewed for completeness. If your application is determined to be incomplete, you will be notified in writing within 30 days, and your application will be returned with no further action. If your application is determined as ineligible, we will return it with an explanation.

4.2 Evaluating your Application

A team comprised of USDA Rural Development Rural Utilities Service employees independently evaluates all applications and proposals. The team scores applications using criteria outlined in Section 5.3, and bases its recommendations on factors such as eligibility, clarity, detailed information, application completeness, and conformity to application requirements.

4.3 Scoring Criteria

In accordance with the information in this application guide, your application and supporting information will be used to determine your priority for available RFP funds. Points are given only for well-documented factors in your application package, and these must meet the objective associated with each factor as outlined in 7 CFR Part 1783.9 (available at this link: <https://go.usa.gov/xJDkb>).

Here are the scoring criteria and points system:

1. Degree of expertise and experience in making and servicing commercial loans, with a record of success – up to 30 points
2. Extent to which your work plan demonstrates a well-thought-out, comprehensive approach to accomplishing your objectives, clearly defines who will be served by the project or program, clearly articulates the problems or issues that will be addressed, identifies the service area to be covered by RFP loans, and appears likely to be sustainable – up to 40 points
3. Percentage of applicant contribution. Points are based on written evidence of the availability of funds from sources other than the proceeds of an RFP grant to pay part of the cost of a loan recipient’s project. In-kind contributions will not be considered. Funds from other sources as a percentage of the RFP grant and points corresponding to those percentages are as follows:

a. Less than 20 percent	ineligible
b. At least 20, but less than 50 percent	5 points
c. 50 or more percent	20 points
4. Extent to which your work plan demonstrates a well-thought-out, comprehensive approach to accomplishing the objectives of the RFP, clearly defines who will be served by your project, and appears likely to be sustainable – up to 15 points
5. Extent to which your goals and objectives are clearly defined, are tied to the need as defined in your needs assessment, and are measurable – up to 10 points
6. Lowest ratio of projected administrative expenses to loans advanced – up to 10 points
7. Evidence that evaluation methods for considering loan applications and making RFP loans are specific to the program, clearly defined, measurable, and consistent with RFP outcomes – up to 20 points
8. Administrative discretionary points – in order to be considered for administrative points, your work plan must include a separate section titled “Administrative Points,” and must address the following factors:
 - a. Your project is located in – or serves – one of the top 10 percent of counties (or county equivalents) in the U.S. based on county risk score as determined by the COVID-19 Economic Risk Assessment Dashboard (available at this link: <https://go.usa.gov/xJDkt>)

- b. Your project is located in – or serves – a community with a score of 0/75 or higher on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Social Vulnerability Index, available at this link: <https://go.usa.gov/xMwj3>.
- c. Your project is located in – or serves – coal, oil and gas, or power plant communities whose economic well-being ranks in the most distressed tier of the Distressed Communities Index (available at this link: <https://eig.org/dci>). Applicants also will receive priority points by demonstrating how proposed climate-impact projects improve the livelihoods of community residents and meet pollution mitigation or clean energy goals.

Administrative points are awarded solely on the above three factors – up to 10 points.

More information about USDA Rural Development’s priority points is available at this link: <https://www.rd.usda.gov/priority-points>.

4.4 Application Selection

USDA Rural Development Rural Utilities Service will rank all qualifying applications by general eligibility and final score. Applications are selected based on rank and funding availability. USDA reserves the right to not award RFP grant funding if applications are incomplete or earn low scores. All applicants will be notified of their selection status by email.

4.5 Possible Application Actions

USDA Rural Development will decide among the following:

- Eligible, and selected for funding
- Eligible, but offered fewer funds than requested
- Eligible, but not selected for funding
- Ineligible

4.6 Appeals Process

In accordance with 7 CFR Part 1900, Subpart B (available at this link: <https://go.usa.gov/xJDaW>), applicants generally have the right to appeal adverse decisions. However, some adverse decisions – such as a denial due to lack of available RFP grant funds – cannot be appealed.

Applicants can request review by the National Appeals Division (NAD). The appeal must be received within the proper timeframe, in writing, and filed with the appropriate NAD regional office. A list of regional offices is available at this link: <https://go.usa.gov/xJDaN>. You can call NAD toll-free at (877) 487-3262.
